Happy Thursday!

How did it get to be December already? Christmas lights up – check. Get Christmas tree – this weekend. Report cards – this weekend. Homework for my masters class – this weekend. Well, 1 out of 4 isn't bad, is it? I may be busy outside of school, but your children have been busy in school

Math...

Included in today's Thursday Notes are Mad Minutes from the past couple of weeks. Please take some time to go through them to see how your child is doing.

Science...

We finished our unit on Insects before Thanksgiving. Since we have just a couple of weeks before vacation, I decided not to start a new big unit. So, over the next three weeks we will be learning a little about the solar system. We started a little on Monday and the students were very excited.

Giving Tree...

Student Council put up a Giving Tree in the hallway by the office. The tree will be up until Christmas Vacation. If you can, stop by and pick a tag off the tree, buy the item listed, and return it unwrapped to the tree.

Prayers...

If you visit the school website, click on “visit classroom”, click on “k-8”, click on “Second Grade” and you will have the list of prayers that your child will need to have memorized this year.

Gifts for our 7th Grade Buddies...

It has been decided upon by the staff that no student will bring in a gift from home for their buddy. The 2nd Graders will be making a gift for their 7th grade buddy in class.

Art website...

If you go to www.artsonia.com you will be able to check out your child's last two pieces of artwork. On this website you can also purchase items with their artwork on it. They would be great Christmas gifts!
